Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurThis fun if light novels quippy, hilarious narrator, Barbara Marr, has so much warmth and genuine gumption, youd certainly want her on your criminal investigative team. Publishers WeeklySemi-Finalist, 2009 Breakthrough Novel Award Contest"Barbara Marr is...perhaps the most hilarious amateur sleuth in literature....Cantwell handles her characters with flair and pizazz...blending page-turning action with those little tender moments that get you right in the gut..."Book 1 in the bestselling Barbara Marr

Murder Mystery Series Film lover Barbara Marr is a typical suburban mom living the typical suburban life in her sleepy little town of Rustic Woods, Virginia. Typical, that is until she sets out to find the missing link between a bizarre monkey sighting in her yard and the bone chilling middle-of-the-night fright fest at the strangely vacant house next door. When Barb talks her two friends into some seemingly innocent Charlies

Angels-like sleuthing, they stumble upon way more than they bargained for and uncover a piece of neighborhood history that certain people would kill to keep on the cutting room floor. 237 pages of laugh-out-loud fun. s: The story is fast-paced, fun and with quite a few twists all rolled into one cute adventure.

Socrates Book s It was just plain fun to read. Red Adept s "Take the Monkeys and Run by Karen Cantwell could easily become one of my favorite books of all time." -- Syria Says If you like a good mystery but want a refreshing new take with a bit of light fare, enough to make you laugh out loud, then Karen Cantwell's Take the Monkeys and Run will take you there. ed by Lee Libro at Literary MagicBooks in the series: Take the Monkeys and Run (#1), Citizen Insane (#2), Silenced by the Yams (#3), Saturday Night Cleaver (#4) Biographie de l'auteur Karen has been writing plays and short stories for many years, some of which were published in various college literary magazines. More recently, her short story The Recollections of Rosabelle Raines, was published in the mystery anthology Chesapeake Crimes: They Had it Comin (Wildside Press, 2010). A few years ago she became inspired to write her first novel, Take the Monkeys and Run, a comedy-mystery, inspired, to some degree by a true monkey sighting in her own neighborhood.

Because she loves to laugh as well as make other people laugh, she has the most fun imagineable writing the character Barbara Marr as well as her friends and adversaries. These days, Karen can be found pecking away at her laptop, conjuring a collection of Barbara Marr short stories and a second Barbara Marr novel, Citizen Insane. Otherwise, she's spending time hanging with her kids before they hit those years where they pretend they don't know her.
